

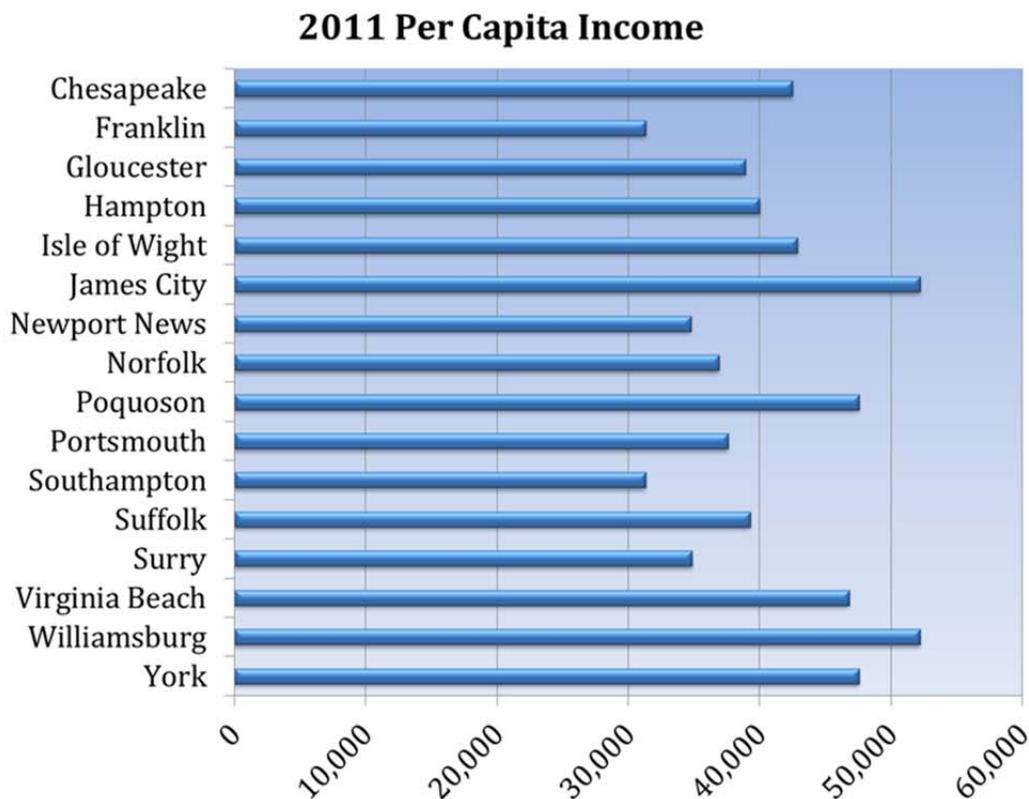

Figure 7.5 Per Capita Income

Source: Bureau of Economic Analysis, HRPDC

Why is it important?

Per Capita Income is a basic measure of well being within a locality. Higher levels of income indicate both a lower demand on many of the services a locality provides, but also revenue potential to pay for those resource. As a simple average, a locality could have a higher per capita income while still having a significant number of low income families.