NOTES & ANALYSIS

All of our key web metrics have increased by over 30% in September. Our biggest increase was page views weighing in with a hefty 54.8% increase.

During September, Google was the #1 driver of traffic to the website once again. We also saw a jump in direct traffic of 6.1% compared to August.

↑ 16.5%

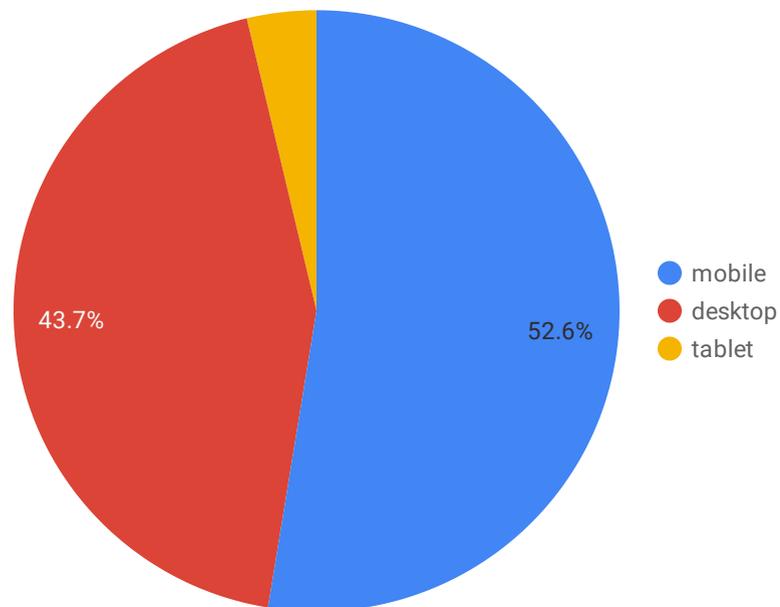

NOTES & ANALYSIS

August saw another great upturn in average user session length, up 47.4%. This time last year, our average session was only :52.

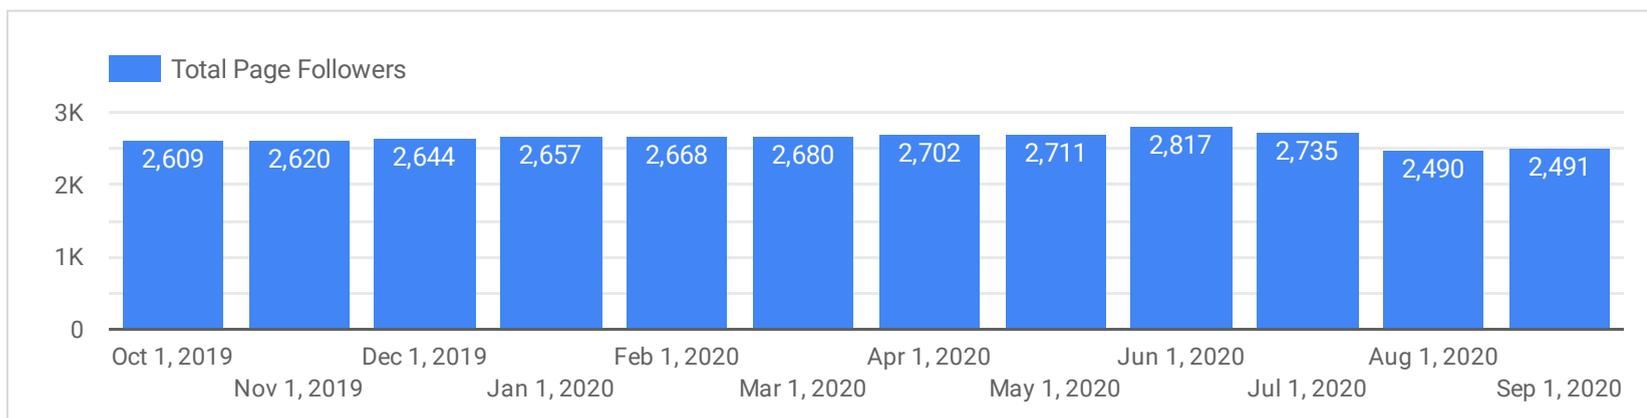

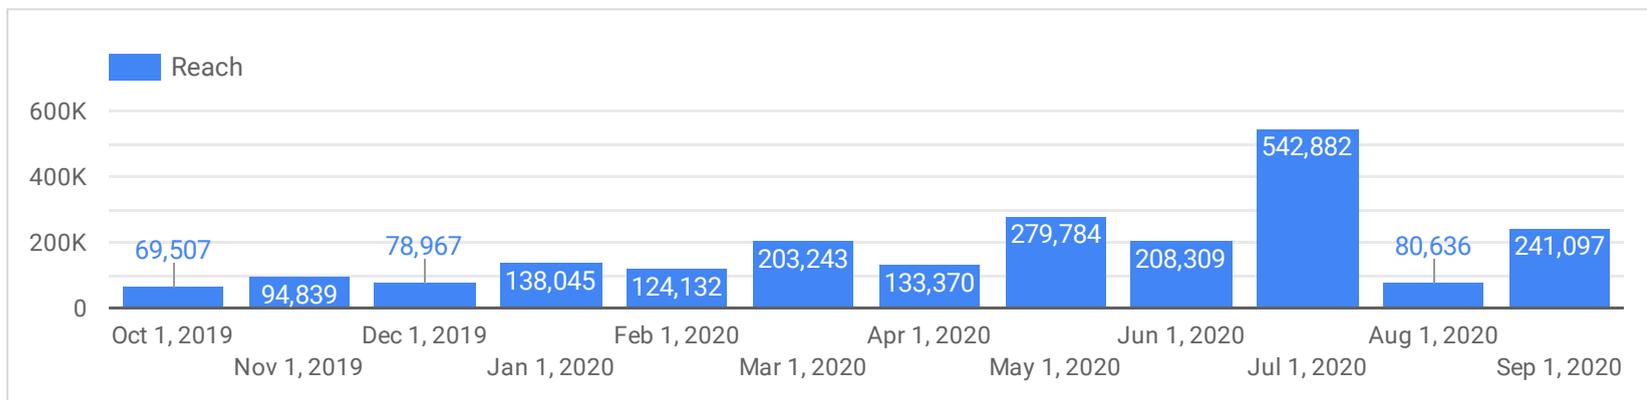

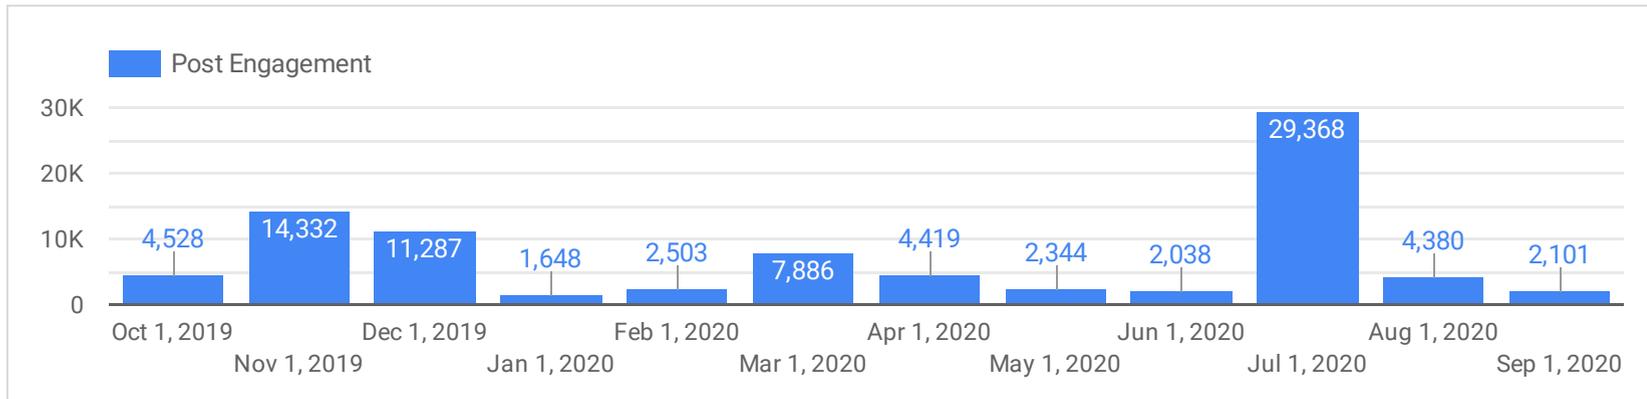

The average pages viewed per session also increased by 16.5%, meaning visitors are viewing more pages and viewing more valuable content.

Our lawn and garden pages are still topping the charts for most viewed pages. No surprise, as we promoted lawn care messaging in our social media posts, and a full lawn care media campaign ran throughout September. The start of fall is also a great time for people to be out in their yards as the weather starts to cool off.

SOCIAL MEDIA / Facebook

May include Organic & Paid Traffic

It is good to see our follower growth in the positive again, and we will continue watching closely to see how the new Facebook updates will affect our reach and follower count.

There were 32 Organic Posts and 2 Paid Ads during September. The organic post from September 16th wins the prize for most Engagements with a total of 100 clicks, comments and shares.

NOTES & ANALYSIS

Our Facebook and Instagram ads reached over 284k users during September, which is a 33% decrease in Reach from August's campaign. Though still a decrease from August, our reach is 14% better than our reach between July and August. We will watch this closely, as our reach is still likely to be affected by lifting COVID restrictions.

NOTES

Above are the paid social media posts for the month of September in order by date.

The following pages are the paid media results, year-to-date. Highlighted are any posts with an engagement rate of over 0.20%. This seems like the better metric to watch, as opposed to just raw engagements.

Are you ready to Team Up 2 Clean Up? Register now! Then grab your buddy and get started. 🧑🏻🧑🏻 That's all there is to it. But remember, here are a few things you can do anytime: 🧻 If you see trash around the neighborhood, pick it up. Be a good neighbor and set an example. 🧻 Keep litter and other debris off your streets where it can easily enter storm drains and ditches. 🧻 Be sure your trash and recycling containers stay covered to prevent trash from spilling or blowing out. 🧻 Contact the Team Up 2 Clean Up coordinator in your city or county to organize your own cleanup and receive the supplies you'll need like litter grabbers, trash bags and safety equipment.
